WEDNESDAY, JULY 4. 1739.

11° 1257.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Belgrade, June 9. O. S.

We are assured that it has been resolved in a Grand Council of War, to open the Campaign with the Siege of Orlova; that the Prince de Lobkowitz is actually marching thither with 8 Regiments of Horse and 12 Battalions of Foot; that the Count de Neuperg is to join him with the like Number, and that the Grand Army is to advance to cover the Siege. Meanwhile there are 10,000 Turks at Lugos, and 4000 at Transilvania, who, 'tis said, are to be reinforced by several thousand Janissaries, so that if the Infidels don't retire, we shall be obliged to attack them, in order to drive them from their Posts, or else the Siege of Orlova can't be form'd. 'Tis said, that the Grand Vizier is at Widdin with 40,000 Men.

Vienna, June 16. O. S. 'Tis said, an Express is arrived from Belgrade, with Advice, that the Marshal Wallis's Army has passed the Save, and that the General de Neuperg is marching with his Troops towards Orlova; so that we may forthwith expect to receive important News from those Parts; the rather, because we are assured, that the Turks are posted near the Isle of Boretz with 30 Frigates, and a very great Number of Saigues, to hinder the Imperialists from approaching Orlova by Water.

Hamburg, June 22. O. S. Letters of the 19th from Copenhagen say, the French Squadron was still at that Road waiting the Return of an Express which the Marquis d'Antin had dispatch'd to Stockholm; from whence some Advices say, that the Russian Minister there had had a long Conference with one of the Secretaries of State, in which, 'tis said, that by Order of the Court, he demanded a categorical Answer for what Reason the Armaments are making in Sweden, and what that Crown intends with regard to the Treaty of Peace concluded at Neustadt in 1721. between Russia and Sweden.

Rome, June 9. O. S. The Chevalier de St. George lately receiv'd some Dispatches from the French Court, which, 'tis conjectur'd, were of some Importance, because he came hither immediately from Alano, to confer with the French Ambassador, the Duke de St. Aignan; and 'twas observ'd, that before he return'd, the said Ambassador communicated to him the Result of some long Conferences, which he had held with the Cardinals Ottoboni and Corsini. Comet has lately been seen both in those Parts and Naples, with a very long bushy Tail. We hear from Corsica, that the Malecontents submit apace to the French Troops there, some voluntarily, and others by Force, and with the Effusion of Blood on both Sides.

Manheim, June 23. O. S. There has not only been a triple Salvo from the Artillery on the Ramparts; but Te Deum has been sung in all our Churches, on the News from Schwetzingen, that the Elector Palatine is recover'd.

Williamsburg, Virginia, April 6. A considerable Quantity of old English Money was found in the Ruins of a House where Col. Bridger formerly liv'd, in the County of Wight, of the Coins of Queen Elizabeth, King James the First, and King Charles the First. It was first discover'd by a Negro that liv'd on the Plantation; who, not knowing the Value of it, squander'd a good deal of it away; by which Means soon came to the Knowledge of Persons who found Means to get possess'd of the greater Part of it; which they converted to their own Uses, without acquainting the Proprietor of the Land thereof. In a little Time, the Money began to circulate plentifully about that Neighbourhood, and now may be seen almost all over the Country; so that 'tis believ'd there was a large Sum of it; and if we may credit the Report of the Neighbours, there were some Bushels of Gold and Silver. How this Money came to be lodg'd there, or who was the right Owner of it, no one living knows; but 'tis conjectur'd by some, that it was hid there for Security, in the Time of Bacon's Rebellion; and by others, that it was Publick Money lodg'd in Colonel Bridger's Hands, who was in an advanc'd Station of Life, and held several Offices. However, the Owner of the Land lays Claim to the Treasure; and we hear has exhibited Bills in Chancery against several Persons, who have been known to have been possess'd of this Sort of Money, in order to recover it.

Rhode-Island, May 4. At a General Court of Election held at Newport within and for his Majesty's County of Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations in New England on the first Wednesday in May, 1739.

Sarum, June 19. On Monday the 4th Instant Richard Lanham, of Heytesbury, in this County, Clothier, being convicted of paying his Servants and Workmen in the Woollen Manufactory in Truck, before Richard Willoughby and Edward Lambert, Esqrs. two of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for this County, was fined Ten Pounds, according to Act of Parliament in that Case made and provided. It appeared by the Informations, that he never paid one Tenth Part of the Workmen's Wages in Money, but in Bread, Butter, Soap and Candles, at excessive dear Rates. The Offender vainly hoped the Justices would have mitigated the Fine, but it appearing how daring and bold his Offence was, so soon after such a Riot committed in the Country, they ordered the Ten Pounds to be distributed among the poor Sufferers. It is expected that some other such Sort of Clothiers, who are not only a Disgrace, but real Injury to the fair Trader, will be soon summon'd before the same Gentlemen, on the like Occasion.

Canterbury, June 30. We are inform'd from the Parish of Worth near Sandwich, that very lately three or four Gypsies lodg'd in a Barn in that Parish, about a Week or more, having with them a Jack-Ass and a very likely Bay Horse or Mare, whilst a more numerous Party of the same Sort of Vermine were plying about Dover. During their Abode at Worth, they had so far insinuated themselves into the Credit of a poor Family in that Parish, that both the Man and his Wife were jointly persuaded to believe, that if they brought forth to the Gypsic Woman their best Goods and Wearing-Apparel, viz. three Tea-Spoons, two Handkerchiefs, one or two Aprons, the Wife's best flower'd Cotton Gown, and Twenty Shillings in Money, they should find a vast Treasure in one Corner of their Buttery: That they should distinguish the particular Place where it lay by a small Quantity of loose Earth being hover'd or heaved up as if a Mole had been at Work: But they were strictly charged not to speak of it, nor examine the Place, nor look after it, in less than a Week's Time.

The Money, Spoons, Handkerchiefs, Aprons, and best Gown, were accordingly brought forth, and the Gypsic received and pack'd them all up together in a Bundle, before their Face, and forthwith laid the Bundle on a Table in an Inner Room, giving strict Orders it should not be touch'd by any: That within the limited Time a certain Spirit should come and take the Goods, if it pleas'd, or if it liked them; and in such Case, when the Bundle was gone, and the limited Time expired, they should certainly find the Signal afore-mentioned, where the Treasure was concealed.

The Consequence was this: In two or three Days Time the Bundle was gone from the Table whereon it had been laid, the promised Treasure could not be found, and the Gypsies being removed and gone, the poor Fellow (who then call'd to Remembrance a Story of the like Nature he had heard at Chilham some Years ago) spent about a Week's Time in a fruitless Hunt and Search after them; and is now bewailing his Folly and hard Fate, (as he calls it) to have been thus spoiled by the Egyptians.

The Story being thus told by the Parties who are the Sufferers, it may reasonably be supposed some of the most foolish Parts of it are omitted in their Account. Be that as it will, it is here inserted, that others may be cautious of giving Ear to the Tales of such deluding Vagabonds.

Whereas John Court, late Servant or

Assistant to the Under-cook of Merton College in Oxford, went, or is supposed to be convey'd away, from Headington in the County of Oxford, on Sunday the Thirteenth Day of May last, so that the said Court hath not been heard of since the Death of George Griffin, late Servant to the Sexton of the Church of Merton College, which George Griffin is supposed to have been murdered by the said Court on Saturday the Twelfth Day of May last: There are to give Notice, that if the said Person who convey'd the said Court away, or any other Person whatsoever, will give an Account of the said Court to Mr. Edward Clarke, an Attorney at Law, at his House in Bedford-street near Bedford-row, London, or to the Warden or Burser of Merton College aforesaid, so that the said Court may be apprehended and brought to Justice, such Person for his Reward shall receive Ten Guineas from the Hands either of the said Mr. Clarke, or of the Warden or Burser of the College aforesaid, who have agreed to the Prosecution of the said Court, so far as that he be brought to a legal Trial for the supposed Murder of the said George Griffin.

The said John Court is a well-built young Fellow, about Eighteen Years of Age, about Five Foot Six Inches high, of a fresh Complexion, and wears his own fair Hair, hath a small Scar on his Forehead, and is very hairy on the Backs of his Hands and Wrists, used to wear a dark Fustian Frock without Lining, and a Cloth-colour Leather Pair of Breeches, and sometimes a dark-coloured Cloth Suit of Cloaths with a cut Sleeve and Brass Mettles Buttons, and Silver Buckles in his Shoes.

To SMELL to, &c.

The Most Noble, Volatile SMELLING-BOTTLE in the World, lately much improved.

WHICH smelled to, instantly relieves

Persons in the most dismal fainting or swooning FITS, and in a Moment removes Flushings, Vapours, Dulness, Head-ach, Megrims, &c. It takes off all heavy Sleepiness, retards Swoonings, keeps up the Spirits to a Miracle, and by its Use admits of no Fainting; but invigorates and enlivens the whole Man, recreates and makes cheerful, altho' never so sad, and in a Moment raises all the sensitive Faculties.

It is also to be taken inwardly by Drops, which effectually takes off and eradicates the very Cause; for it potently relieves, comforts, and strengthens the Brain, creates and corroborates the Stomach, removes Sickness from it, helps Digestion, cleanses the Blood; and, in a Word, is the greatest Cephalick, Stomachick, Hepatick, and powerful Aromatick possible.

Whereas many Persons of both Sexes perfume their Handkerchiefs with a few Drops of it, and find that in using it so, it is of singular Service in all the Cases above-mentioned; and many Gentlemen, Ladies and Others use it after this Manner, purely because it gives a most fragrant and delicious Odour, that constantly both delights and relieves the Senses, not only better than any thing of a musky Kind, (which is really hurtful to most Constitutions) but it really takes off what such Things do occasion; and also relieves the Head and Brain from any ill Effects of common Snuff, and instantly diverts from, and prevents the bad Consequences of any sudden, nauseous, offensive Smells; therefore is extremely necessary for all Gentlemen, Ladies, &c. always to be carried in their Pockets.

Sold now only at Mrs. Markham's Toy-shop, at the Seven Stars under St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street, and at Mr. King's Picture-shop in the Poultry, at 2s. 6d. each.

BOOKS sold by J. OSBORN, in Pater-noster-Row.
